

Title: Boundless Love – Why God Became A Man

Author : Robert M Solomon

Category : Christian Living

“For the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost.”

Luke 19:10

I picked up this book recently from the Recycled box in the Resource Library because after hearing Dr. Robert Solomon’s talk in last year’s Discipleship Series, I had wanted to read his collection of books.

In this book, ‘Boundless Love’, its content is outlined why God became a man in four easy-to-follow parts, namely: (1) To Save Us, (2) To Forgive Us, (3) To Heal Us and (4) To Transform Us. Each part has seven to eight reflection topics and mostly easy to read and can complete the book within a month.

As I read the book, I have found it personally to be a refresher and reinforcing course on my faith in Jesus. The following, taken from ‘Jesus reconciles us to the Father’ resets my priorities in my life – “... Jesus kept emphasizing having a right relationship with Father God. And it is for this the same reason that He taught us to begin our prayer by addressing God as Abba and Father. God wants to become my Father, and when I discover Him to be so, it begins the healing process in me. It clears the confusion and removes the sad clutter of my life. It reorganizes my life and sets me free. Calling God “Father” tells me whose we are, and on this identity depends all our prayers and all of life.”

I found the topics covered in the book helpful for me, like ‘The Joy of Being Forgiven’, ‘The Assurance of Salvation’, ‘Our Need to Forgive Others’, ‘How to Enter the Kingdom of God’, ‘What’s So Deadly About Sin?’, ‘Grace and Graciousness’, ‘Suffering in God’s Presence’, ‘How We Should Treat Aliens’, ‘Thoughts About Heaven’.
