PRAY FOR SINGAPORE: Christians - "To mind their words."

* Meditate on James 3:9-12; Matthew 6:33, 12:34; Philippians 4:8; Job 29:12-13; Isaiah 58:11.

Something to Chew and Consider:

Words have power to heal and to wound. Once they pass through our lips, they are irretrievable. Off they go like arrows shot from a bow. They head for their target with a payload of life or death.

God cannot change the past but He can shape a better tomorrow. One of the ways He does that is through the human lips surrendered to the impulses of His Spirit.

Words create tomorrow. Say something nice today.

Prayers:

1. Pray for Christians to realise the repercussions of their words, so as to withhold them.
2. Pray that they will be mindful of what they are speaking, so as to speak relevantly and respectfully.

3. Pray for Christians who are involved in and responsible for the Arts and Entertainment aspect in Singapore to exercise prudence and to uphold justice.
4. Pray that we will seek first the Kingdom of God and the righteousness of God.
5. Pray that in every trade agreement we sign, every research we undertake and every business venture we pursue, we shall reflect the goodness and the generosity of God.
6. Pray that we will show genuine care and concerns for the orphans, the fatherless and the widows in our midst.
7. Pray that we, as a nation, will transform weary nations into well-watered gardens.
